Bridgetown, Barbados

HIGHLIGHTS

San Juan, Puerto Rico

Your journey begins in San Juan, Puerto Rico's vibrant capital. You'll find 500 years of history to delve into here, from ancient fortresses to colorful colonial-era buildings.

Fun Things to Do:

- El Yunque National Forest offers 29,000 acres of mountain terrain exploding with overgrown jungle, fast flowing waterfalls, and towering bamboo stands. Hike along 23 miles of nature trails, or summit El Toro, nearly 3500 feet above sea level, for sensational views.
- In Old San Juan, you'll find plenty of island fare and criolla cuisine, home cooking flavored by Spanish and African influences. Try some mofongo, mashed fried green plantains often stuffed with meat, or snack on some codfish fritters, called bacalaitos.

Charlotte Amalie, St Thomas

Charlotte Amalie is one of the world's most beautiful harbors; blue waters peppered with sailboats and green hills dotted with quaint little cottages make for post-card perfect brags. Just outside the lively port town, you'll find ribbons of powdery sand beaches dotted with hammocks. Cruise to St. Thomas and explore colonial landmarks like Blackbeard's Castle or raise a pint of the local lager at quaint microbreweries. And when it's time to fuel up, you'll find plenty of beachside bars serving conch fritters, johnnycakes, and coconut patties. St. Thomas may technically be part of the U.S., but with its colorful markets, unspoiled beaches, and the ever-present sound of steel drums, you'll feel a world away.

Fun Things To Do:

- Stop by Blackbeard's Castle, built in 1679, and see the world's largest collection of life-sized pirate statues. Or climb the legendary 99 Steps built by 18th century Danes, using bricks that once served as ship ballast.
- St. Thomas's central mountain range offers endless opportunities to snag the ultimate panoramic selfie. Head to Government Hill, Drake's Seat on Skyline Drive, and Mountain Top, which rises over 1,500 feet above sea level for the most bragworthy views.

St. Johns, Antigua

Antigua has a beach for every day of the year, literally. But the island experience goes beyond 365 distinct ribbons of white sand and clear waters. In the capital city of St. John's, you'll discover charming candy-colored architecture, lively markets, and a beautiful baroque cathedral.

Fun Things to Do:

- Explore Betty's Hope, two restored stone windmill towers that were once part of Antigua's first major sugar plantation. The site dates back to the mid-1600s.
- In Antigua, British, Creole, and West Indian flavors come together to spice up local ingredients and fresh seafood. Must-try dishes include fungi, a cooked cornmeal paste similar to Italian polenta and ducana dumplings made of sweet potato. If you wander the harbor front, you'll find traditional English fish and chips paired with locally brewed Wadadli beer.

Bridgetown, Barbados

You'll find Bridgetown strikes a fine mix of island warmth and English heritage. Stately colonial buildings intermingle with colorful wooden homes, open-air markets, and catch-of-the-day cafes. Outside of the bustle of "Town", as the locals call it, Barbados is a new kind of paradise in any direction. Head towards the shore for pink-and-white-sand beaches that stretch on endlessly and crystal-clear turquoise waters. Or stick to the center of the island, where you'll find rolling hills and valleys, sugarcane fields and historic plantations. You can even travel underground to discover limestone caves with their own waterfalls.

Fun Things To Do:

- Take a solar-powered tram journey 170 feet below ground into Harrison's Cave, an intricate limestone cave system. Here you'll find flowing streams, waterfalls, emerald-hued pools, unusual stalactite formations, and towering columns that formed over thousands of years.
- Sit back and relax on the powdery white sands of Harbour Lights on Carlisle Bay Beach. If kicking back with a rum punch in hand is a little too laid back, you can snorkel around shipwrecks, rent a jet ski, or even visit Tortuga to swim with turtles.

Castries, St. Lucia

From dramatic landscapes molded by ancient volcanoes to sparkling palm-fringed beaches, St. Lucia is known for its amazing Caribbean beauty. Luxury resorts nestle up to the natural beauty, giving this island just the right touch of exclusivity.

Fun Things to Do:

- Melt away your cares in the town of Soufriere, home to Sulphur Springs and known for its medicinal waters since the 1600s. Soak in natural thermal pools at the bottom of the bubbling craters and zen out while indulging in a therapeutic mineral mud bath from head to toe.
- Make your way to Marigot Bay, a gorgeous natural harbor straight out of a movie scene, dotted with restaurants, bars and shops. You can stroll the yacht marina, shop at boutiques, visit a French bakery or relax at the secluded beach, accessible by ferry.

Philipsburg, St. Maarten

What makes St. Maarten so unique is its blend of cultures. The island is home to 120 different nationalities speaking over 80 languages and is governed by two countries: the Netherlands and France. In fact, it's the smallest land mass in the world to be shared by two different nations. While it may be less than 40 square miles, there's plenty to do on this little island. If you're after a little rest and relaxation during your cruise to St. Maarten, you'll find plenty of secluded beaches where you can work on your suntan before treating your taste buds to some of the best cuisine in the Caribbean.

Fun Things to Do:

- Loterie Farm is a nature sanctuary with 135 acres of hiking trails, a zip line adventure course, and a spring fed multilevel pool with cascading waterfalls.
- Head to Front Street in Philipsburg, the capital of Dutch St. Maarten, and shop your way down a mile of dutyfree stores. Before you go, pick up some famous guavaberry liqueur at the Sint Maarten Guavaberry Company.

Activity Level - 2

Comfortable- This trip may include walking tours of up to two hours in length typically on level terrains. May include early morning departures or late-night returns. Climbing multiple flights of stairs, standing for short periods of time, along with moderate altitudes may be necessary.

Please see your Travel Agent to reserve your choice of shore excursions.
